

For Immediate Release

Chief Connection Officer to launch the New York Executives Club: NYEXEC

/24-7PressRelease/ - Friday May 9, 2008, Bedminster, NJ - The New York Executives Club NYEXEC will be formed in Midtown Manhattan at the Affinia Manhattan Hotel. The first meeting will be held on Friday, June 6, 2008. "We are pleased to be creating a New York Executives Club", said Mark R. McNulty, President of Chief Connection Officer. "This new Manhattan-based club is being formed in response to unsolicited demand. Executives familiar with our New Jersey club have long seen the need for our type of membership organization in NYC. Moreover, we are delighted to have our Founding Speaker be Mr. Zack Lemelle, a top IT executive with Johnson and Johnson. Zack is a perennial favorite with our members because of his technological and business insights as they relate to global corporations."

Featured Speaker: Mr. ZACKARIE LEMELLE, VP IT Corporate Systems, J&J

Topic: "The Top 10 Trends in IT"

Description: One of the chief concerns of CEOs worldwide is to learn of the fast-paced changes in the IT world and how to best take advantage of those.

This presentation will address some of those changes and how they relate to global pharmaceutical and healthcare companies.

Mr. Zackarie Lemelle is responsible for Procurement, Legal, Communications, Worldwide Operations and other corporate functional areas at Johnson & Johnson a global American

Chief Connection Officer
442 US HWY 202/206N, #400
Bedminster, NJ 07921
info@chiefconnectionofficer.com
T: 888-485-5224
F: 908-325-0440

pharmaceutical, medical devices and consumer packaged goods manufacturer with 250 subsidiary companies with operations in over 57 countries.

The New York Executives Club provides:

- A forum for high-tech corporate executives to learn from each other through lecture series in which executive officers from various industries discuss changing trends, innovations and new developments in their respective fields;
- An environment in which corporate executives may seek guidance from their peers with respect to ethical, financial, regulatory, and employee relations issues that executive officers confront in performing their duties;
- A private, by-invitation-only membership organization for FORTUNE 1000 leaders in the NY Metro region.

For more information please call: 888-485-5224

About Mark R. McNulty

President and CEO of Chief Connection Officer, Mark is recognized as one of the New York area's top new business development and executive networking experts. He has won many awards for his entrepreneurial and Fortune 500 accomplishments. In addition to leading fast growth companies, Mark has held positions at IBM, ATT and Lucent in the areas of high technology and information systems.

Chief Connection Officer is a business development firm helping IT and Technology firms land major contracts and raise capital. For additional information please contact Mark at 908-623-0077 info@chiefconnectionofficer.com

###

Chief Connection Officer
442 US HWY 202/206N, #400
Bedminster, NJ 07921
info@chiefconnectionofficer.com
T: 888-485-5224
F: 908-325-0440